ORMSBY WINS.

Yesterday was something of a day for Ormsby in the sports field. Carson in the baseball events from Reno by a decisive victory. One also won the clay pigeon shoot and the prize won the tug of war from Dayton. Thus Ormsby county won two events from Washoe and one from Lyon on the same day. Where accuracy, skill and brawn was needed Ormsby had the goods ready for delivery.

This is doing fairly well for the smallest county in the state where we have comparatively such a small population to pick out athletes and marathons from.

A South Dakota man sat on a keg of dynamite while the boys around him were touching off their fire works. We don't know what the verdict of the coroner's jury was, but it should have been suicide.

In view of the fact that he wore a white flag to church the other day, it seems fair to call President Roosevelt a Mark Twain taker.

Government experts have filed a report exonerating Senator Warren of Wyoming from the charge of feigning government funds unlawfully. We hope nobody will be mean enough to suggest that he had plenty of time, since the investigation was begun some months ago, to move all the fences in Wyoming.

If Mr. Rockefeller had known a little about the oil business all his life as he says he knows now a lot of independent oil operators would have been considerably better off, and the University of Chicago would never have been founded with money wrung from the American people.

Chicago is bragging about a business man who, after failing and settling with his creditors for 30 cents on the dollar, has now paid all on them with interest. Well, he is a citizen worth while, but there are plenty like him in the west, and we don't stop to brag about them, either.

It is pleasant to note that the post-office department are going after the eastern swindlers that sell fraudulent mining stocks. We venture to say that more of them can be found in some of the office buildings of New York and Chicago than in all the west combined.

THREE VERSIONS OF MILLER PLAN

THE WOMAN'S:

There is a big dancing with dirty windows in it down at Millers. Inside a lot of wares go round and stamps jump up and down on the ore and the gold is mined into ore in hot furnaces. It is an awful noisy, dusty place and a lot of grease on my white skirt.

MAGAZINE CORRESPONDENT:
 Glistening in the place of the sun's hot rays and the cactus and sage brush of the desert, majestic stands the monster plant occupying the space of three city blocks and costing $1,000,000.

This huge mechanical organism, seemingly almost human in its touch and accomplishment, with its 100 stamps steadily dropping through the heat of the day and the dark hours of the night accompanied by a dull roar, bewilders the spectators upon first sight.

The stupendous array of crushers, endless vats and auxiliary establishments through which the ore passes and repasses for washing and re-washing by cyanide solution which catches the precious metal by hooks of affinity to finally give up its precious values to glistening strands of zinc shavings is overwhelming to the layman.

THE ENGINEER'S:

Building—525 feet x 300 feet, frame, iron clad.
 Crushers—17½ K. Gate's gyratory; 24 Gate's gyratory.
 Elevators and 16-foot screen.
 Bin capacity—1,500 tons.
 Stamp mill—100 stamps, 1,050 pounds each. Drop, 6 inches, 100 times per minute. Duty 4 14 tons per day per stamp through 16 mesh screen, etc.
